Love Those Letters!

We are all about letters at preschool right now! Harvey's excitement in spotting the first letter of his name has sparked a wave of curiosity across the group. The children have been exploring the letters in their own names, discovering letters in our environment, and experimenting with all kinds of fun ways to represent writing. From playful name hunts to creative letter art, our preschoolers are diving into the world of literacy with joy and enthusiasm!

Playdough to Pizzeria!

What started as playful pizza-making with playdough turned into a delicious real-life cooking experience! Inspired by their imaginative creations, our Jarjums got hands-on in the kitchen last week, preparing and cooking their very own pizzas. With Mrs. Clark's help, the children explored new flavours, experimented with ingredients, and even tasted toppings they had never tried before. A wonderful blend of creativity, curiosity, and cooking!

Little Leaf Keepers

Our preschoolers have taken on the important role of caring for our fascinating leaf insects! Each day, the children carefully spray the eggs, collect fresh leaves, and ensure the leaves are misted with water to keep our insects happy and healthy. Through this hands-on experience, the Jarjums are learning about responsibility, life cycles, and the wonders of the natural world - one leafy task at a time!

Blast Off with Burbi!

The Burbi group has launched into an exciting new interest - space! To support this cosmic curiosity, we've transformed our dramatic play area into a galaxy far, far away. Over the coming weeks, the children will bring their universe to life with paper mâché planets, a rocket ship, and plenty of creative flair. Stay tuned as our little astronauts explore the stars, one craft at a time!
